

THE EXECUTIVE CAREER ACCELERATION PROGRAM

12 Week Program

Online on Wednesdays over 12 weeks.

Control your move into your next big role. Learn how to thrive through the tough transition to the executive suite and the specific way you will excel in the role. Each person's career path is different but in today's world is hard to shape. The organisation, the recruiters and the 'networks' drive the hiring decisions. To balance this, the Career Acceleration program is a structured approach that builds your confidence and gives you a framework for crafting your own career strategy. It gives you negotiating power and enables you to take the initiative in defining exactly how you will excel.

This program is ideal for:

- Experienced managers, particularly with strong specialist backgrounds, preparing for the move to the C-suite.
- CEOs in the making
- Professionals in line for practice head or firm leadership roles
- Experienced professionals ready to 'pivot' their career into a new direction.

Format:

- A weekly online teleseminar, available afterwards as a recording.
- Support documentation for each session including worksheets and ideas for going deeper.
- Personal engagement with Sean and the start and end of the program, with the option for separate tailored sessions to support your progress.
- An online community to enable mutual support through the program.
- A closing Q&A session.

Time commitment:

This depends on your current situation.

The program will lead to focussed work on specific tasks that will require a further hour each week.

The program is primarily designed to shape the career conversations, research, interviews and other activities you undertake to find your next role. The insights, decisions and clarity you develop will make your path to the next role smoother and faster.
